

Jackie Huston

"What I Can Do to Promote Americanism and Love of Country"

I have great pride in my country and am proud to have been born as a citizen of The United States of America.

I can Promote americanism and my love of the country by wearing red, white, and blue on holidays such as Independence day and attend Independence day parades, I can also take time to participate in other holidays such as Veteran's Day, Flag Day, and Memorial Day.

I can also take time and learn more about my country by visiting Washington D.C. and places that are important to our country's history.I can share what I have learned about my country to others.

I can help support our nation's armed forces by sending letters to the soldiers to thank them for serving and protecting our country. I can also learn more about the armed forces and think if joining would be something I would like to do in the future.

I could learn about the government and the process of how we elect government officials and how they keep our