Being patriotic means to have pride in our country and to be thankful for our freedoms. With all our luxuries it is easy to take them for granted. To promote Americanism you can support the economy by buying American products. When you buy products that are made in this country you can give people jobs, even though it may be cheaper coming from somewhere else. For example, if you buy food from a farmers market it's grown locally and the money will go to support that family. Also, there are many soldiers around the world who have to live away from their families to give Americans their freedoms, they deserve our support. One way to show your Americanism is by helping their families, so they know their sacrifice is appreciated. We are so lucky for all the freedoms we have, so it's important to do what we can to support our country and other Americans.
